

Insurance Destroyed Vehicle Options

OPTION 1 - If you plan to sell the vehicle:

- 1) Give the purchaser the Notice of Cancellation letter, this insert, and a notarized bill of sale.
- 2) If the vehicle is less than ten years old, provide the purchaser with an odometer disclosure statement available at any vehicle licensing office.
- 3) Submit a seller Report of Sale to the Department of Licensing within five days from the date of sale. This can be done at a vehicle licensing office or online at www.InternetTabs.wa.gov and click on "Report your vehicle sold".

NOTE: The purchaser must have the vehicle inspected by the Washington State Patrol before it can be titled or licensed. They must present copies of all receipts for the parts used to repair the vehicle.

OPTION 2 - If you plan to repair and use the vehicle:

- 1) Schedule an appointment with the Washington State Patrol to have the vehicle inspected. Contact your local state patrol office for a location nearest you or visit their website at <http://www.wa.gov/wsp/traveler/vinhours.pdf>.
- 2) Buy a Transit Permit or apply for a 60-day Temporary Permit at your local vehicle licensing office.
 - The 60-day temporary permit is only available to the registered owner on the vehicle record and must have "unexpired" tabs for the duration of the permit. If the vehicle has been sold, the purchaser does not qualify for this permit.
 - The transit permit is required when traveling to the inspection station and the licensing office.
- 3) Bring copies of all receipts for the parts used to repair the vehicle to your appointment.
- 4) Take the inspection documents, the vehicle registration, and a copy of the Notice of Cancellation letter to your vehicle licensing office to apply for a title.

OPTION 3 - If you plan to keep and use the vehicle without repairing minor damage:

- 1) Schedule an appointment with the Washington State Patrol to have the vehicle inspected. Contact your local state patrol office for a location nearest you or visit their website at <http://www.wa.gov/wsp/traveler/vinhours.pdf>.
- 2) Buy a Transit Permit or apply for a 60-day Temporary Permit at your local vehicle licensing office.
 - The 60-day temporary permit is only available to the registered owner on the vehicle record and must have "unexpired" tabs for the duration of the permit. If the vehicle has been sold, the purchaser does not qualify for this permit.
 - The transit permit is required when traveling to the inspection station and the licensing office.
- 3) If your vehicle has minor damage (for example, a small dent in the rear quarter panel or bumper) you can have it inspected without repairing the vehicle.
- 4) Take the inspection documents, the vehicle registration, and a copy of the Notice of Cancellation letter to your vehicle licensing office to apply for a title.

OPTION 4 - If you plan to use the vehicle for parts:

- 1) Provide the purchaser with a bill of sale for each vehicle part sold. The bill of sale must include
 - A description of the part(s) they have purchased; and
 - The vehicle identification number (VIN).

NOTE: When you sell the remainder of the vehicle, the notarized bill of sale must include the vehicle description (make, model, year, etc) and the vehicle identification number (VIN).
